Final report of panel on Gujarat encounter cases should be given to parties: SC

(H.S)AHMEDABAD/NEW DELHI: Rejecting the Gujarat government's plea, the Supreme Court on Wednesday ordered that the final report of the Justice H S Bedi Committee on 24 alleged fake encounter cases from 2002 to 2006 in the state be given to parties of the petition.

A bench headed by Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi said it would deal later on whether to accept or reject the final report of the Justice Bedi committee on encounter cases.

The top court was hearing two PILs filed in 2007 by veteran journalist B G Verghese and poet and lyricist Javed Akhtar, seeking a direction for a probe by an independent agency or the CBI so the "truth may come out". Verghese passed away on December 30, 2014.

The bench, which was Wednesday hearing a plea to make the report public, did not accept the Gujarat government's contention that the final report not be given to Akhtar and Verghese's counsel as it may prejudice matters against persons it might have named in the report.

The bench, also comprising

Justices L Nageswara Rao and S K Kaul, granted the Gujarat government and the counsel of Akhtar and Verghese four weeks to file their responses to the report submitted by Justice Bedi, who was appointed chairperson of the apex court appointed committee that had probed the encounter cases.

Earlier, the apex court had asked the former apex court judge if he had shared his final report with other members of the panel. The apex court had asked the monitoring authority to place before it preliminary reports relating to the alleged fake encounters between 2002 and 2006 in Gujarat, purportedly showing a pattern that people from the minority community were targeted as terrorists. These were submitted periodically.

Rathwa community warns of boycotting political parties

(H.S)AHMEDABAD/Vadodara: Even as the state government has formed a committee to look into the demands of the Rathwa community, its leaders has warned of boycotting political party that fails to raise their issue with the government.

The community has been facing difficulties as the land revenue records do not mention the community as tribal. The land revenue records mention them as 'Koli' which comes under the other backward classes (OBC), due to which the community is not able to enjoy the benefits as tribal. As the land revenue records do not recognize the community as tribal, youth of the community getting government jobs in ST quota are receiving notices.

"The issue rose when the government started the exercise of digitizing land revenue records. In the process, we were mentioned as either Koli or Rathwa Koli which makes us OBC. After the Indian Constitution came into place, people from our community received land parcels for farming but in the records only our first names were mentioned and not the community's title," said convener of the movement Jemal Rathwa. Jemal said that even as the government has formed the committee it cannot do much as it consists of BJP MP Ramsinh Rathwa and Sankheda MLA Abhesinh Tadvli, both of whom are facing similar issue. "We are going to form a committee which will meet heads of different political parties and ask them to raise our issue with the government. The party which will not support us will not be allowed to campaign in our region and their candidate will also be boycotted," Jemal added.

Court denies bail to graft accused PF officer

(H.S)AHMEDABAD: Graft accused enforcement director of provident fund Paru Tiwari was denied bail by a sessions court here on Saturday.

Tiwari and Trivedi in which she had confirmed she is aware that Trivedi has received the payment of money from the complainant and she also asks Trivedi another Tiwari was booked for demanding a bribe of Rs1.2 lakh from an IT company owner. She had asked Trivedi to collect the bribe and was nabbed red-handed on October 15 by ACB sleuths. Tiwari had been absconding since then.

Winged visitors love these wetlands too

But few know that a variety of migratory or local birds are sighted in several water-bodies in and around Vadodara. These winged guests stay around between November and February before flying back home.

One of the lesser known wetlands is the Timbi lake that is located 12 kilometres east of the city in Waghodia taluka. chat and Eurasian curlew to northern pintail, bird enthusiasts can spot 15 to 20 species of birds in the wetland in this village near Mahi River.
