

Let's join our hands in saving water.....

Water is the base on which our life is built and is one of the most valuable resource of nature. It is an endless creation by God so people don't take care. Every year, 22nd March is celebrated with much vehemence. Are we not motivated about water for one day in a year? Can we imagine a day without clean water? No, not a single day of our life can go forward without water. In spite of having 70% of water on earth but only 1% of water is fresh & useable and other 97% of water is salty, 2% of water is in form of ice in the glaciers & icebergs.

Human beings are destroying the environment by wasting this 1% of clean water by various ways. Day by day, it is becoming clear that water is going to be the biggest casualty of the modern development process. But, what happens post World Water Day is worrisome. It is ironic that nature's gift to humans is available only for money these days. We are forced to buy clean drinking water after having polluted every known source. Nowadays mineral or purified water is billion dollar business. People are ready to spend Rs 20 for a water bottle as we know it's not easy to get pure or clean water. Increasing population and rapid urbanization has led to over-use of water resources leading to water pollution and scarcity. Rain, rivers and wells have been man's traditional sources of fresh water. Global warming upsets natural patterns of rainfall. Rivers are slowly killed at their sources by steady destruction of forests and the construction of big dams, and overdevelopment of ground water. Frantically using of water is a bad sign for the world. We use water to wash away our dirt, but in turn we forget to clean the water.

We leap to blame nature whenever there is a flood or a water scarcity. On the other side experts feel that bad management of water resources has encouraged unsustainable ways of using water. Unless water is used equitably, and in a non-partisan manner, playing with it may prove to be more risky than playing with fire. A growing population and a consumptive lifestyle add to the depression. Development cannot be reversed. But technology could be reoriented to serve the dual purpose of conserving water and regulating its use. We have to pay attention to the importance of fresh water and be able to maintain the management of fresh water resources. Don't we think leaving aside global solutions: something should be done at the national and regional levels? Let's join our hands in saving water as much as possible. Let our motto be "Save water, save life, save the world".

Grihashakti launches special home loan for women

Ahmedabad, Fullerton India Home Finance Company Limited which operates under the brand Grihashakti announces the launch of 'Grihalakshmi' - a home loan product specially designed for women borrowers. This product encourages salaried and entrepreneurial women in urban and semi-urban India to help build a home for their family and create asset ownership on the basis of their income.

The rate of interest on these loans is competitively priced, from 9.50% onwards for a housing loan and 11.50% onwards for non-housing loans. The loan ticket size for Grihalakshmi will range from Rs 5 lakh to Rs 5 crore. Commenting on the launch, Mr. Ravindra Rao, Chief Executive Officer, Grihashakti said, "At Grihashakti, we strongly believe that women need to be encouraged to buy homes and take loans in their name. Owning one's own home gives a great sense of financial security. We see women actively participating in taking key family decisions of buying homes and therefore this product would help them fulfill their dreams". Launched in early 2016, Fullerton India Home Finance Company Limited (which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Fullerton India Credit Company Limited), provides retail and affordable home finance solutions across 41 branches spread across 9 states. UnitedHealth sued by U.S. government over Medicare charges

The U.S. Justice Department has joined a whistleblower lawsuit against UnitedHealth Group Inc that claims the country's largest health insurer and its units and affiliates overcharged Medicare hundreds of millions of dollars, a law firm representing the whistleblower said on Thursday. "We reject these more than five-year-old claims and will contest them vigorously," UnitedHealth spokesman Matthew Burns said in a statement.

The lawsuit, filed in 2011 and unsealed on Thursday, alleges UnitedHealth Group overcharged Medicare by claiming the federal health insurance program's members nationwide were sicker than they were, according to the law firm Constantine Cannon LLP. The Justice Department has also joined in allegations against WellMed Medical Management Inc, a Texas-based healthcare company UnitedHealth bought in 2011.
