Hunting and killing of animals has become a form of recreation. Murdering humans is considered a crime. But killing and wiping out an entire genre is hardly given consideration. Hunting has tradition and the support of very powerful people on its side and with their influence hunting has been left untouched by legislation - the Protection of Animals Act

Our country is unique in having a significant number of tigers in the wild, in spite of growing population and resource extraction pressures on their habitat. Tigers are the heritage of our country, evoked in the vedas, puranas and many other literature for their unparalleled strength and aesthetic beauty. The destruction of forest coverage by Maoists may be one of the reasons for this decrease. Wild animals deaths were also reported from Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Kerala, Karnataka and Uttarakhand.

Tigers play a large role in sustaining the biodiversity of forests, in maintaining healthy ecology, habitat conservation and the livelihoods of rural communities. The tiger population has decreased in the states of Telengana & Andhra Pradesh. The destruction of forest coverage by Maoists may be one of the reasons for this decrease. Wild tiger deaths were also reported from Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Kerala, Karnataka and Uttarakhand. During the first six months of the year, 30 deaths were reported. The protection of the national animal has been a significant achievement till now. Hope this continues and leads to a significant rise in the coming years. Credit must also be given to Aircel for initiating "Save Tiger" campaign, along with New Delhi Television (NDTV), who played an active role in creating awareness among the people on dwindling tiger population in India. The number of wild tigers has gone up to 3,890, from the earlier 2010 estimate of 3200, according to the World Wildlife Fund and the Global Tiger Forum. A new Tiger commando force should be created to protect tigers from the poachers. Government must try to put in more efforts to improve the arrangements to conserve the national pride - the Tiger.

Fifty Percent increase of patients seeking Homoeopathic treatment during last five years: Shri Shripad Naik

The Homoeopathy is not a pseudoscience. The conclusion of most comprehensive systematic reviews of studies based on classical homoeopathy has concluded that it has a positive and specific effect greater than placebo alone. Four systematic review/meta-analyses of homoeopathy for all conditions have been published in international peer reviewed journals. Of these, 03 covering hundreds of clinical trials reached a positive conclusion that there is evidence that homoeopathy is clinically effective. Review of basic research on highly diluted homoeopathic medicines found 98 replicated experiments, over 70% of replications were positive.

Homeopathy is being promoted as it is not only safe and effective but also due to its high acceptance through high quality surveys of use of homoeopathy. In India, at 23 Institutes/Unit under Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy (CCRH), there is 50% more footfall of patients seeking homoeopathic treatment during the last five years.

There is evidence that homoeopathy is beneficial and not merely a placebo. 'Scientific Framework of Homoeopathy - Evidence Based Homoeopathy' consists of research worldwide and 'Homoeopathy - Science of Gentle healing' focused to research in India has enlisted hundreds of scientific trials including basic research showing strong evidence towards the beneficial role of homoeopathy.

Dr. Shashi Tharoor personally called up the Minister of State (Independent Charge) of the Ministry of Development of North Eastern Region (DoNER), MoS PMO, Personnel, Public Grievances & Pensions, Atomic Energy and Space, Dr Jitendra Singh to convey his appreciation. Status & Changing Roles of Women in Indian Society (82)

Hundreds of millions of women become the victims of unfair treatment in India. Each of them faces discrimination of a different kind. Women's rights issues still remain highly troublesome in this country. However, there are some rights both in India and in other parts of the world. India belongs to those countries where a newly born girl is not accepted with great pride and happiness. The role of women is highly underestimated in the country. The deeply rooted traditions put women a step lower than men. This picture, however, was not always the same in past centuries. After turning into a patriarchal society the role of women gradually became inferior. Today, women's rights in India are in an upsetting level condition. According to a number of statistics, women are in an essential need of empowerment. Education, unemployment and gender discrimination are the main women's rights issues in the country. So, we've collected some of the main women's rights issues in India today. Despite the constitution provides equal right both to men and women face huge discrimination today. The discrimination against women started even before their birth when unborn girls are not encouraged to lie. Unfortunately, most of them are doomed to abortion, which brings us to the 2nd biggest issue. Another deeply rooted and troublesome issue is the domestic violence against women. According to the statistics held by National Crime Records Bureau, the crime against women is committed every three minutes. Women are raped every 29 minutes and dowry death happens occurs every 77 minutes. Women very often become victims in their own families by their husbands, brothers or other family members. The domestic violence does not only include physical violence but also emotional, verbal and sexual abuse. Very often women feel fear to talk about the domestic violence committed against them as they think that it will harm their reputation and will be an accepted as a disrespectful deep by the society. Women in India think that remaining silent about the violence by their husbands and tolerating everything will be the best solution both for them and their families.
