national integration and secularism: VP

The Vice President of India Shri. M Venkaiah Naidu said that a stint of service in National Cadet Corps (NCC) has to be made compulsory in all educational institutions. He was addressing the cadets of the National Cadet Corps at the inaugural ceremony of the Republic Day camp in New Delhi today.

Shri. Naidu congratulated the cadets for their enthusiasm and energy, for their outstanding drill and their confidence. He observed that the Camp, which would foster feelings of unity and patriotism, would serve as a memorable and motivating learning experience. The Vice President urged the cadets to make the best possible use of the camp by participating in all activities conducted at the Camp with sincerity and commitment. Shri. Naidu said that the training provided by NCC since its inception has played a vital role in inculcating the qualities of discipline, leadership, camaraderie, team spirit, adventure and national integration, thereby leading to the holistic development of the Nation's youth and assuring a better future.

He added that the camp would be a unique opportunity not only to understand the country better, but also to widen one's horizons and foster lasting friendship with fellow cadets from other nations.

Highlighting the timeless values of universal brotherhood, national integration and secularism for which NCC stood for, Shri. Naidu applauded the selfless service undertaken by the cadets of NCC in times of crisis and natural disasters like earthquakes, cyclones, floods, etc.

Affordable leads residential launches in Ahmedabad

Ahmedabad: Knight Frank India today launched the 10th edition of its flagship half-yearly report - India Real Estate. The report presents a comprehensive analysis of the residential (across eight cities) and office (across seven cities) market performance for the period July - December 2018 (H2 2018).

According to the report, affordable segment emerged as a winner as a majority of new launches were in under INR 5 mn. Further, report findings showed that share of houses priced between INR 5-7.5 mn also increased. In the Office segment, sunrise sector of Co-working, which is a part of the Other Services sector, entered the Ahmedabad market.

Balbir Singh Khalsa, National Director IAS and Branch Director - Ahmedabad said, "After a few dull years, Ahmedabad market has started to see a rise in the residential market with sales moving up by 4% in 2018. The growth is led largely by sales in the affordable housing sector. Majority launches too have been in the categories below INR 5 Mn (5 Lakhs) constituting over 60% of total launches. With residential inventories under control, Ahmedabad market in ready to show big improvement in new launches in 2019. The commercial sector also demonstrated growth on account of heightened activities from investors and occupiers. The market operated on positive sentiments in 2018, which is expected to remain positive in 2019." (19-10)

Nifty's correction in terms of valuation is nearly over

Ahmedabad: Kotak Securities today unveiled its Market Outlook for 2019 wherein it spoke about Nifty performing within the range of 10,000-13,000 by December 2019.

Rusmik Oza, Sr. VP & Head of Fundamental Research, Kotak Securities pointed at key factors like global trade war, fed rates and Brexit outcomes to set the sentiment of the global economy in 2019. In terms of Indian economy, Oza indicated that the next six months may prove to be challenging due to forthcoming General Elections - thereby leading to some volatility in the markets. However, despite this, the investors would be intermittently rewarded with several investment opportunities in the market. At the same time, he cautioned the investors to remain patient.

"Good prices and good news, both will not come together", said Oza.

"Investors should focus on companies driven by good quality management and also having high earnings growth as well as reasonable valuations - given the thinning scope of re-rating in 2019. Stocks returns may mimic earnings growth. Hence it is ideal to focus on growth stocks", Oza added.

Oza also pointed that Nifty can witness a potential upside of 16-20% - to get to a range of 12,500-13,000 points, if election outcome is positive (i.e. a single political party winning majority votes) and earnings growth momentum is maintained. (13-1)

Gymnasts to launch the medal hunt at Khelo India Youth Games tomorrow

Ahmedabad: Commonwealth Games participant Meghna Reddy of Telengana, and Allahabad's Mohammad Anas are the stellar draws among the 166 gymnasts in the Khelo India Youth Games (KIYG) 2019 that get under way at the Shree Shiv Chhatrapati Sports Complex here from tomorrow.

Reddy drew plaudits for her performance in the artistic gymnastics event of the Gold Coast Games in Australia last year, while Anas won a bagful of medals at the Khelo India School Games 2018 (KISG).

Expectedly, hosts Maharashtra have fielded the largest contingent with 39 gymnasts among the 17 participating states. West Bengal, Uttar Pradesh and Tripura have sent 21, 18 and 16 respectively with the remaining 13 states completing the numbers. Tuesday will see the first two gold medals of the Games being decided with the Under-21 men's and women's artistic gymnastics finals. Events are scheduled to begin at 10 am, and competition will continue through the day. (19-10)

Sprinter Avantika Narale wears favourite tag with confidence and comfort

Ahmedabad: Avantika Narale wears her favourite tag with confidence, comfort and awareness. The 15-year-old Punekar, who rewrote Dutee Chand's 200m national junior record, wants to lower her personal best time at the Khelo India Youth Games 2019 this week to such an extent that the record remains in her name for some years.

"Yes, I want to get personal best times and lower the national junior record so much that it remains in my name for some years," she says after completing a couple of media interviews. "My coaches Sanjay Patankar and Sudhakar Memane and I have set clear targets for this week. And I am confident that I can achieve them."

The fastest girl at KISG 2018 in Delhi, she also claimed the sprint double at the national junior athletics championships in Ranchi last November. She clocked 12.38s in the 100m and 24.96s in the 200m to break Dutee Chand's record in the Under-16 division. (19-10)

LRD paper leak: Cops probing press staff for negligence

(H.S.)AHMEDABAD: After breaking the backbone of the interstate paper leak gang, Gujarat ATS, Ahmedabad crime branch and Gandhinagar police have now trained their guns on the printing press — Manipal Technologies, from where the LRD (fixed pay constable) question paper was stolen and then leaked to about 85,000 candidates either physically or on social media.

An member of the joint investigating team said they are questioning some employees of Manipal Technologies and a team is currently camping in Bidar of Udipi district of Karnataka where the printing press is located.

"If not on criminal grounds, because the stealing of LRD exam papers comes under the head of "burglary" — we are quizzing them for negligence which resulted in chaos and nearly ruining careers of about 9 lakh candidates," said an investigator.

A top police official said that as the news of LRD paper leak had spread like wildfire on December 2, just hours before the exam, the printing press should have themselves taken the initiative and checked their CCTV footage.

"It would have made our work easier and we had to spend lot of time investigating the source of the leak. They were in contact, but never told us about the CCTV footage," said a top official of Gujarat Police.

Investigators said the press which prints question papers for competitive exams had a duty to exercise due diligence in disposing of waste. "They had dumped a clearly visible question paper in the waste room. This should have been destroyed," a police official said.

An investigator said it is also mandatory for the printing press, which is into printing confidential material to have foolproof dumping rooms. "In this case, Mahadev Asture, Vinod West Bengal, Madhya Pradesh, Delhi and Maharashtra police have contacted them to in-terrogate the accused as the same gang is suspected to have leaked competitive exam papers in many states.

Kingpin "Guruji" used bluetooth to leak papers

Investigators said that Mathur who is also known as Guruji because of his wrestling skills, was arrested in 2017 for leaking a competitive exam paper. He had many different modus operandi. In one of the cases he had provided earphones with blue tooth which could be inserted in the ear and they were so powerful that even a whisper would be heard by the candidate. They used to dictate the answers from outside to the candidate.

Number of Haj applications dips in Gujarat

(H.S.)AHMEDABAD: The Gujarat state Haj committee conducted a draw from among all applicants to select those who will go on the Haj pilgrimage this year, as Gujarat has been given a quota of 5,970 seats for which there were as many as 32,914 applicants.

This year, the Haj committee saw a dramatic fall in the number of applications received from aspiring pilgrims. In last three years, the average number of applications was higher than 50,000, with some 52,000 applications received last year.

The dip in applications this year is attributed the change in policy by the state Haj committee. According to a former chairman of the committee, Mohammed Ali Qadri, "From the number of applications for a quota of just over 4,000, the Haj committee fixed certain eligibility criteria. Candidates who have applied four times should only be considered. This criterion has been done away with. This may have made those who apply every year relax a bit."

Qadri also said that the quota for Gujarat increased over the last few years, with the state getting more seats from other states' quota. Moreover, this year, because Saudi Arabia has increased its quota for India, Gujarat's quota has also increased a bit. "This may also be one reason for the fall in the number of applications, because seats with private tour operators have also risen considerably."

This year, the Haj committee received the highest number of applications from Banaskantha district, which has 3.65% of the Muslims of Gujarat. As many as 5,573 applications were received from Banaskantha against the 219 seat quota for the district. Ahmedabad district, which has 15.11% of the state's Muslims, has a quota of 907 seats, for which 4,649 applications were received.

Devbhoomi Dwarka district has just 1.41% of the state's Muslim population and has a quota of 84 seats, but the Haj committee received just 51 applications from this district. "This means all applicants have been selected from this district," Qadri said. Dang district has a very small Muslim population, just 0.06%. Its quota is just four seats and only four applications were received from this district.

The Gujarat state Haj committee conducted a draw from among all applicants to select those who will go on the Haj pilgrimage this year, as Gujarat has been given a quota of 5,970 seats for which there were as many as 32,914 applicants.

This year, the Haj committee saw a dramatic fall in the number of applications received from aspiring pilgrims. In last three years, the average number of applications was higher than 50,000, with some 52,000 applications received last year.

Realty MoUs worth Rs 20,000 crore for city in pipeline

(H.S.)AHMEDABAD: The real estate sector is expected to witness a flurry of investments during the ensuing Vibrant Gujarat Global Summit 2019. For Ahmedabad alone, real estate developers are going to sign 385 memorandums of understanding (MoUs) for realty projects worth Rs 20,225 crore during the ninth edition of the biennial event, to be held between January 18 to 20 in Gandhinagar.

Of the MoUs lined up so far, 259 proposals with cumulative investment to the tune of Rs 12,841 crore are for developing realty projects in areas falling under Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) limits. The remaining 126 MoUs worth Rs 7,384 crore are for localities under Ahmedabad Urban Development Authority (AUDA), said sources in the urban development department.

The proposals include all types of real estate projects ranging from residential, townships, bungalows, commercial property to hotels in various parts of Ahmedabad.

According to sources, city-based real estate company Mahika Infra has proposed a residential and commercial project in Vastrapur entailing an investment of around Rs 1,000 crore, while Shreenth Developers will ink an agreement for a Rs 600-crore hotel and commercial project in Thaltej.

Arvind SmartSpaces, a real estate company belonging to the Arvind group, is set to pump Rs 500 crore for a township at Jethlaj in Kalol near Gandhinagar. JP Iscon Private Limited has come up with a slum redevelopment project at Odhav envisaging an investment of Rs 100 crore.

Other prominent developers who are slated to ink agreements during the Vibrant Summit are Sun Builders, Aahna Build Spaces, City Gold Developers, Riddhi Siddhi Infra and Sheth Builders to name a few.

With just a few more days to go for the Vibrant Summit, government officials believe the number of MoUs and projects will increase further.

In the last edition of the summit, 301 real estate MoUs involving investments of Rs 30,905 crore were signed for real estate projects in AMC limits. Of this, 20-30 projects have failed take off and the remaining are in various stages of development, said sources privy to the information. Vibrant Gujarat Global Summit 2019. For Ahmedabad alone, real estate developers are going to sign 385 memorandums of understanding (MoUs) for realty projects worth Rs 20,225 crore during the ninth edition of the biennial event, to be held between January 18 to 20 in Gandhinagar.

100 suffer from food poisoning at Bedva village

Vadodara/ Anand: Nearly 100 persons suffered from food poisoning after having lunch at a post-marriage ceremony at Bedva village of Anand taluka on Sunday evening.

The residents of Bedva, Nar, Sojitra and adjoining villages of Kheda district complained of severe bout of vomiting, diarrhoea and uneasiness after consuming 'halva' and chicken biryani during the ceremony.

According to sources, Farooq Vohra, a resident of Bedva village, had invited around 250 guests for the ceremony on the second day of his son's marriage. Of the 250 guests, 120 were from the same village whereas others were from Nar, Anand, Sojitra and those staying in other villages of Kheda.

After consuming a meal that included 'halva', chicken biryani, samosa and buttermilk on Sunday afternoon, around 100 of them started complaining of vomiting and diarrhoea in the evening. Later in the day, nearly 34 of them were rushed to Sarsa primary health centre whereas others were shifted to three private hospitals in Anand.

After providing primary treatment, 50 of them were discharged as their condition had improved by late night. The rest of them were discharged on Monday afternoon. Condition of all of them is said to be stable.

Health officials of Anand

district collected samples of the food that the guests had consumed during the ceremony. The report of the samples tested by the authorities is expected to come within a day or two. Three including a minor arrested for attempting to loot Rs 10 lakh from a man

(H.S.) Ahmedabad : Three persons including a minor were arrested within hours of attempting to loot an employee of a petrol pump in Subhanpura on Monday.

Police said that two more persons were also present at the spot when the loot was attempted and they are yet to be arrested. The Rs 10 lakh that the trio tried to loot has been recovered.

At around 10.30am, petrol pump employee Rajesh Solanki was on going on his two-wheeler to deposit Rs 10 lakh in the bank. When Solanki was passing from Subhanpura slum quarters road, five persons on two bikes approached his two-wheeler from behind. One of three snatched the bag full of cash that Solanki was carrying and the trio sped away towards Ellora Park. Solanki chased them on the road and caught up with them within minutes.

He kicked their motorbike after which one of them fell down along with the bag full of cash. Solanki's counterattack caught the accused by surprise and they chose to flee from the spot on foot.

"Solanki recovered the bag lying on the road. The accused also abandoned their bike so it made it easier for us to track them. We tracked down the motorbike's owner from the license plate number and questioned him. He said that his friend had borrowed the bike for a day from him," said R S Dodiya, Gorwa police inspector. The cops then picked up Hireen Rohit who had borrowed the bike and questioned him.

He led them to two other accused including Vikas Patanwadia and a minor. "We have got identification of the other two accused and they too will be nabbed soon," Dodiya told TOI. The police said that gang must have been keeping an eye on Solanki's movement over last few days before striking on Monday.

Three persons including a minor were arrested within hours of attempting to loot an employee of a petrol pump in Subhanpura on Monday.

Police said that two more persons were also present at the spot when the loot was attempted and they are yet to be arrested. The Rs 10 lakh that the trio tried to loot has been recovered.

Woman among three held for kidnapping builder's 14-year-old son

(H.S.)AHMEDABAD: Dabhoi police on Monday arrested three persons including a woman for kidnapping 14-year-old son of a builder from the town on December 20.

The accused — Sejal Bhatt, Vikhyat Alias Rahul Sharma and Manish Sharma — had kidnapped Sagar Patel when he was on way to the tuition classes. Sagar's parents Nileskumar Patel and Prafula Patel learnt that their son was missing when he did not return home till late.

While they were searching for Sagar in the town, Bhatt, who lives near the victim's house and runs a provision store, called Nileskumar to inform that two motorcyclists had left an envelope for him. The envelope had an anonymous letter stating that Sagar was kidnapped and demanding a ransom of Rs 40 lakh for his release.

Police were informed about the incident and a confidential probe was initiated during which they questioned Bhatt about the source of letter. She told police that two motorcyclists wearing helmets asked her to hand over the letter to Nileskumar. After the police went away, Bhatt developed cold feet and immediately called the other two to abandon the boy wherever they are. The duo dropped the boy near Bhatpur village of Sankheda taluka and fled.

When Sagar gained consciousness, he approached a tobacco shop owner to call his parents. Police said that Nileskumar received call late on December 20 from the tobacco shop owner informing that Sagar was with him. Since Sagar was in a shock, he was kept under medical observation for two days.

On Sunday, he told his parents that when he was on his going to tuition class on his bicycle, two persons gagged him and took him away in a red car. During confinement, he noticed that Bhatt was driving the car.

HANDWRITING NAILED THE ACCUSED

According to police, they suspected Sejal Bhatt's story about the letter. When the Sagar Patel stated that he had seen Bhatt driving the car, cops went to Bhatt and sought her handwriting sample. "Bhatt's handwriting and those in the letter were quite similar following which we arrested her," said in-charge inspector K C Bawa of Dabhoi police station.

During interrogation, Sejal Bhatt admitted to police that she had hatched the plan along with Vikhyat alias Rahul Sharma, as both of them were in dire need of money. Later Vikhyat roped in his cousin Manish in the plan and the former got his friend's car to abduct the boy.

Services of around 100 contractual workers at SoU terminated

(H.S.)AHMEDABAD: The services of around 100 contractual workers employed at Statue of Unity (SoU) were terminated by BVG India for going on leave without giving any intimation during the Director Generals of Police Conference at Kevadiya Colony in Narmada district from December 20 to 22.

When the workers reached the SoU to resume their duties on December 23, they were not allowed by the management, a company officer said. Prime Minister Narendra Modi had also attended the conference of senior police officers where they deliberated upon the internal security of the country.

Tribal leaders had called a three-day Kevadiya bandh from December 20 to 22 to protest against the termination of the workers hired by the company for maintenance of the statue site. A large number of people, including workers, gathered at the VIP circuit house at Kevadiya Colony and shouted slogans against the management that day. The workers left only after they were assured by police officers about discussing with the management regarding regularizing of their jobs.

Meanwhile, BJP women workers, who had come to Ahmedabad to attend a national convention of the party, reached the SoU on Sunday. At least, 19,531 tourists were registered of whom 12,784 had bought tickets of Rs120 each. However, BJP women workers were allowed to enter from expressway lift without having entry tickets by the SoU management.

Vikash Deshmukh, a tourist from Mumbai who had come to the SoU with his family, said, "This gives a bad image to BJP. Over 2,000 BJP women entered the viewing gallery without tickets." However, the SoU authorities refused to comment on this. Prime Minister Narendra Modi had also attended the conference of senior police officers where they deliberated upon the internal security of the country.

City gets 11 new routes under UDAN

SURAT/VADODARA: People of Diamond City may soon witness seaplanes operating commercial passenger flights to Statue of Unity with the Ministry of Civil Aviation inviting bids for connecting selected destinations under phase-3 of the regional connectivity scheme, UDAN.

Opening the third round of RCS, the Ministry of Civil Aviation has invited proposals to connect Surat with Statue of Unity and other 10 routes, including Baramati, Amby Valley, Ujjain, Lonavala, Mandvi, Kishangarh, Belgaum, Bhavnagar, Amreli and Rajkot. Earlier, Air Odisha had won the bid for operating flight under RCS connecting Surat to Ahmedabad and Bhavnagar. However, the flight service was stopped due to cash crunch.

Sources said this is first time that the Centre has given Surat so much importance and offered 11 routes, including Statue of Unity in the RCS. This is going to boost the tourism sector as most of the destinations, included in the scheme are tourist places. Member of Southern Gujarat Chamber of Commerce & Industry's aviation committee Manoj Singapuri said, "Earlier, we had proposed to the aviation ministry to provide routes to Surat .
